

NEWS FROM THE CAPTIVE WOMAN

State Department Has Information About Situation of Miss Stone.

WAS STILL ALIVE

Hope Strengthened That the Brigands Do Not Intend to Kill Her.

RANSOM FUND GROWS

Washington, Oct. 10.—Miss Stone was alive and well last Saturday. This was the reassuring information the state department has received from Consul General Dickinson at Sofia. It strengthened the hope entertained by the officials that the brigands have no intention of putting Miss Stone to death, and that she will be safe until the ransom is paid. The state department has forwarded to Spencer Eddy, secretary of the legation at Constantinople, who has been negotiating with the brigands, the draft sent it by the Boston board of missions. This draft is only half of the sum demanded, and a determined effort is being made to induce the brigands to accept a smaller ransom than they seek. It would not surprise officials should the Bulgarian government send troops to surround the mountain upon which the brigands, with Miss Stone, have sought refuge. The department's dispatch is rather vague, but indicates that this mountain is in Bulgarian territory. The authorities would naturally prefer Miss Stone's rescue without the payment of ransom, but rather than she should be harmed they think the money should be paid.

Locate the Abductors. Constantinople, Oct. 10.—A trustworthy report locates Miss Stone's abductors on the summit of a mountain at Gultepe, on the Turko-Bulgarian frontier, near Dubnitz. It is said that the kidnapping band numbers eighteen. Arrangements have been made to surround the mountain with Turkish and Bulgarian troops. It has been suggested that the abductors of Miss Stone are members of the old Macedonian committee, actuated by motives of jealousy, and that they are endeavoring to accomplish the downfall of the present committee. The Bulgarian government has promised to act vigorously.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 9.—Consul General Dickinson has applied for an audience of Prince Ferdinand, but it has not yet been granted. The prince has gone to the country. No news has been obtained of Miss Stone since her recent letter to Mr. Haskell.

The Bulgarian troops and police are actively scouring the frontier.

Miss Stone Still Safe. Washington, Oct. 10.—The time allowed by Miss Stone's kidnappers expired yesterday, yet she is still alive and unharmed.

It is known now officially that her captors have granted a short extension of time—how much is not stated—and the officials feel that if the responses to the appeals of Miss Stone's friends do not cease or diminish there is yet reasonable hope for getting the money in season to save her life.

The danger in the situation lies in the abatement of popular interest which was so generously manifested during the first few days following the issuance of the appeal.

Efforts Cease at Boston. Boston, Oct. 10.—Additions to the Stone ransom fund have practically ceased. Only two small checks were received up to noon today. The fund aggregates nearly $56,000.

Wu Ting Fang Given. New York, Oct. 10.—Wu Ting-fang, Chinese minister to the United States, has sent $100 to a depository here for Miss Stone's ransom fund.

WISCONSIN SYNOD OF PRESBYTERIANS

The Semi-Centennial of the Church at Hudson—Decline in Interest Among Christian Endeavorers.

Hudson, Wis., Oct. 10.—The Presbyterian synod is hard at work. Resolutions were adopted to raise more money and to employ more missionaries in the Sunday school work, to observe rally day and children's day and to introduce the new Westminster quarterly for teachers in the Sunday school work.

The Rev. J. Frank Young presented a report on the Christian Endeavor societies, calling attention to a decline in interest in the work. The Rev. John H. Ritchey took the chair while the synod engaged upon the exercises of the semi-centennial of the Presbyterian church in Wisconsin. The Rev. James Wilson, stated clerk, presented a report of the work of the Presbyterian church for the last fifty years. The Rev. Samuel Brown spoke on the "Rise and Progress of the Presbytery of Calumet," and was followed by the Rev. Bradley Phillips, who came to Wisconsin in 1849, when there were eight old school Presbyterian ministers in Wisconsin. The Rev. W. D. Thomas of LaCrosse gave an account of the work of the La Crosse Presbytery.

BLOCKADE DETAILS BEFORE SANTIAGO

Lieut. Leiber on Stand in Schley Case, Describes Positions Just Before the Naval Battle.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Lieut. Leiber resumed his testimony before the Schley court of inquiry this morning. He detailed the circumstances of the blockade before Santiago for May thirtieth and thirty-first with remarkable precision. He said that the fleet was as far off from the shore by day as by night. The distance from the shore was from six to eight miles. Rayner produced Leiber's log which showed that the fleet was 4.2 miles off shore on the night of May 31.

Lieut. Leiber said the movement around Santiago that night was only partially successful as a reconnaissance. Lieut. Commander Schuetz, the navigator of the Iowa during the battle was the next witness. He was a member of the naval board which plotted the positions of the ships in battle. He said the plot was wrong and protested against signing the report but was persuaded to do so by Lieut. Commander Walcott. He declared that not a chart made of any battle in the world was right. The chart made by the naval board merely showed the relative positions of the vessels. He thought the Brooklyn's loop was incorrectly shown on the chart.

Eight hundred men and boys were thrown out by the strike. The boys, who have been getting 60 cents a day, demand 75 cents and have formed a union for the purpose of enforcing their demands. One boy who attempted to work at the old rate was severely beaten by the strikers. The managers say they will shut down their works for the season before they will accede to the demands.

BELOIT IS A WORTHY COMPETITOR FOR ANY FOOTBALL TEAM IN WEST

Contest Between the Two Largest Wisconsin Colleges at Milwaukee Next Saturday Afternoon Excites General Interest All Over State.

Milwaukee, Oct. 10.—When the Wisconsin and Beloit gridiron teams face each other at the baseball grounds Saturday afternoon in their annual game the football season will be inaugurated and the first really good line on the two great Badger teams secured, earlier games counting for little in that respect.

Beloit is a worthy competitor for any team in the west and is yearly improving its strength more rapidly than any of its competitors. That Wisconsin would be a victor in the games has always appeared to be a foregone conclusion, but in Milwaukee last year Beloit held the players of the big institution down in the first half and was only driven back by the freshmen put against it in the second half, the larger institution having greater wealth of material to select from.

Beloit's Pride in Team. By defeating Northwestern, which afterward defeated Iowa, by tie games with Minnesota and Notre Dame and by other good contests during the year Beloit later, in sporting parlance, "made good." This year the team contains only four of last year's veterans, but the new men are well up to the standard, the same college feeling which has always carried the team on to its best efforts exists and the same wily coach has the men in charge.

An illustration of the pride of the boys in their institution is the presence in the team of Adkins, the baseball pitcher. He has always kept out of the game in order to protect his arm, which is a most valuable asset, from any possibility of injury, but this year he became a candidate for the team because men were needed and he was willing to sacrifice himself for the good of the institution.

Wisconsin Eleven Strong. Wisconsin has a stronger team than last year; not so strong in the line, where last year it had no peer, but more evenly balanced and a better playing aggregation. The institution at Madison, notwithstanding reports to the contrary, has in every department of athletics always sent out representatives who were in every way up to the work required of them. Beloit has gone down before it in football, but has been nearer to the front in baseball and track athletics, and there is a determination on the part of the tight little college to add football to the list. Many Beloit rooters think that his is the year the trick will be accomplished.

MANY CHANGES IN CHURCH PULPITS

Presiding Eldership Transfers the Principal Bone of Contention at Methodist Conference, Ripon.

Ripon, Wis., Oct. 10.—The fifty-fifth session of the Wisconsin annual Methodist Episcopal church is in progress. Bishop J. W. Joyce, who presided at the conference of 1893 in Fort Atkinson, called the meeting to order, and with the help of the presiding elders administered the communion to the ministers and others who were present. The Rev. John Schneider of Fort Atkinson called the roll of the conference and upon its formal organization Mr. Schneider for the thirteenth time was elected secretary. And for the thirteenth time the Rev. Perry Miller of Milwaukee and T. W. North of Milton were made assistant secretaries. E. W. Mager of Oconto was elected statistical secretary and clerk, as his assistants R. H. Jones of Allen Grove, F. E. Baugh of Hingham, E. D. Kohlstedt of Racine, T. W. Fessenden of Oconto Falls and F. C. Richardson of Dartford. For treasurer the Rev. M. A. Draw of Brandon was elected and as his assistants J. J. Lugg of Lyons, R. W. Stephens of Edgerton, G. C. Carmichael of Sturgeon Bay and J. T. Look of Weyauwega.

The question of presiding elders is the prominent one. Presiding Elder Porter has served nearly six years on the Oshkosh district. He went on the district following the death of Dr. W. P. Stowe and has been reappointed to the district five times. According to the discipline he cannot be returned to the same district. There is a probability of a change also in the Janesville district. The Rev. John Schneider of Fort Atkinson has asked for a change and there is a probability that he Rev. W. W. Stevens, the presiding elder of the Janesville district, will be sent as pastor. Mr. Stevens served this church for five years and has been away from the church for three years. One of the possibilities mentioned is an exchange between Presiding Elder Stevens and the Rev. Mr. Schneider. W. W. Woodville of the First church in Janesville and Henry Coleman are also mentioned for presiding elder in the Oshkosh district.

JUDGE DUNWIDDIE PRESIDED TODAY

Proceedings of the Baptist State Convention at La Crosse—Election of Officers Yesterday.

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 10.—Today's session of the state Baptist convention opened this morning with the church packed to the doors. In the absence of President J. E. Lindsey of Milwaukee First Vice President Judge E. Dunwiddie of Janesville presided.

Treasurer F. C. Dinsmore read the annual report, showing a deficit in the treasury existed, but not so large a one as last year. The Rev. Hulbert of Wauwatosa read a paper showing the establishment of new missions and considerable church building. The election of officers was held late yesterday afternoon and resulted as follows: President E. J. Lindsey, Milwaukee; first vice president, Judge B. F. Dunwiddie, Janesville; second vice president, C. S. Wohl, Oshkosh; treasurer, F. C. Dinsmore, Delavan; auditors, A. S. Parish and F. D. Fiske, Delavan. The evening session now addressed by the Rev. Cheney of Racine. He spoke on "The Child in the Midst." His discourse was an interesting discussion of child life and the relations of the parent and church to children.

KAISER WILLIAM IS AFTER THE CUP

German Ruler Willing to Take England's Place—Lipton's Request for Race Next Year Refused.

Berlin, Oct. 10.—It is rumored that Emperor William has instructed the Kiel yacht club to challenge for the America cup.

No Race for Lipton in 1902. New York, Oct. 10.—Sir Thomas Lipton's request for an opportunity to try again for the America cup next year using Shamrock II against Columbia was refused by the New York Yacht club. Sir Thomas has asked the club to waive the rule which forbids a defeated challenger from trying for the cup for two years unless another contest intervenes. After a conference between the Royal Ulster Yacht club consisting of Hugh McDowell, and Colonel Sherman Crawford, and the Challenge committee of New York Yacht club, the latter rejected the proposition on the ground that the New York club had no power to waive the clause of the club in the deed of the gift.

STRIKE IN ROCKFORD

Selection of Site for the New Carnegie Library Provokes Much Bitter Feeling There.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 10.—Nearly one year ago Andrew Carnegie gave to Rockford, under his usual conditions, $60,000 for a public library building. The gift has provoked more turmoil, bad feeling and dissension than has ever been known in the history of the city. "Rockford would be better off today if Carnegie had never given it a cent," said Alderman E. C. Dunn at a meeting of the city council this week, and would be a godsend if he would withdraw his offer," added another councilman. The question of a site has been under discussion ever since the gift was made, and seems no nearer a settlement now than it was months ago. The East Side wants the building; so does the West Side, and neither is willing to give in. Thus the matter has rested for several weeks. Now the city council has called a special election for Nov. 12, when the voters of the city will be given the privilege of selecting between the two sides of the river. Attorney General Hamlin has given an opinion that his election will not be binding, and the losing side is expected to begin injunction proceedings against the winners. It is suggested by some that the building be placed on piles in the center of Rock river so that neither the East nor the West Side will have an unfair advantage.

WIRES ARE STRUNG IN THE FAR NORTH

Annual Report of Brig. Gen. George M. Randall on Alaska, Has Been Filed at Washington.

Washington, Oct. 9.—The annual report of Brigadier General George M. Randall, commanding the Department of Alaska, just made public by the War Department, calls attention to the importance of shipping in early summer all supplies intended for St. Michaels. Lawlessness at Cape Nome and vicinity having subsided, the principal work of the military was the construction of the military telegraph line and military railroad through Alaska. Up to date 400 miles of telegraph have been completed at a cost of only one serious accident.

BISHOPS ADOPT DIVORCE CANON

Episcopal Church Is In for Reform in the Marriage Law.

DEPUTIES TO ACT

Committees Report on the Marginal Readings Accepted with One Amendment.

TO DECIDE ON A NAME

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 10.—The house of bishops of the triennial Episcopal convention by a vote of 37 to 21 adopted canon 36, which relates to the solemnization of marriage. All of the provisions of this canon had been argued previously except those contained in section 4, which forbade the marriage of persons divorced for any cause not existing before marriage. "For any cause not existing before marriage" is understood to refer to such causes as insanity, inability to execute a contract, the existence of a living wife or husband, or like reasons which practically render the marriage null and void. This section caused contention, a strong element in the church holding that the remarriage of the innocent party to a divorce granted on the ground of infidelity should not be forbidden. The bishops have refused to accept this view of the matter. The question is by no means settled, as the whole subject is now to come up in the house of deputies, where it is expected to cause a protracted debate.

Committee to Decide on Name. Another important feature of the work of the house of bishops today was the appointment of a committee of five to act with similar committees of priests and laymen, constituting a joint committee of fifteen, in considering the proposed change in the name of the church. The committee has no power to act, but is to report its findings at the next general convention, to be held in Boston in 1904. The bishops rejected the Huntington amendment, and also article V of the proposed constitutional amendments which provides for the admission of new dioceses and which has already been rejected by the deputies.

Marginal Readings Adopted. The house of deputies adopted the report of the joint committee on marginal readings, after agreeing to an amendment eliminating those readings which are original with the committee. The vote on the main proposition, as amended, was as follows: Clerical—Aye, 52 dioceses; Nay, 6 dioceses; divided, 1 diocese. Lay—Aye, 45 dioceses; Nay, 6 dioceses; divided, 2 dioceses. The report, as amended will now go back to the house of bishops for action on the amendment. Both houses unanimously selected Boston as the place for holding the next triennial convention.

The cable repair ship will not have a headquarters on this coast, as previously announced, but at F.J.

SECRET SERVICE ON THE RAILROADS

Suspected Employees Are Kept Under Strict Surveillance—The System is Generally Used.

An employee of a railway entering Janesville was discharged some time ago on less than twelve hours notice after nine years' service. No reasons were given by the company, except the usual "for good of the service," and none was requested. Both sides understood that the action probably saved the company several thousand dollars.

Back of the routine disposal of the case there was an interesting series of circumstances of the kind that enable railway corporations to prevent peculations, falsifications and embezzlements. The discharged employee had been under a strict system of surveillance for weeks as the French government ever enforced. The net result showed that he was about to enter a kind of life altogether unrelated to his income and his increasing tendency in this direction accompanied by a decreasing attention to business.

Secret Service Work
On the desk of one of the principal officials of the road in Chicago early last week there lay a small bundle of carefully folded documents, each methodically numbered and prepared for the files. The one at the top of the pile bore no external marks, but inside was the notation "A. M. report," heading several closely written type written pages. With it was a similar document labeled "P. M. report," with the same name of type-written information. Each gave a concise, clear history of twelve hours of the employee's life, his every movement and action and nearly every word being recorded with the accuracy of a map.

The first report spoke of a night at poker with losses out of proportion to $250 a month salary. The second showed borrowed money. Others showed bills due from tailors and others, and still others, night carriage rides in questionable company, little dinners for two with wine, and finally the maintenance of two establishments where a family man needed but one. The official to whom they were referred made a penciled memorandum on the last of the series: "Discharged Mr. Blank. Stop reports."

System Generally Used
Each railway system in the Northwest uses a similar system when employees show tendencies marked by experience as those that lead to extravagance and wrongdoing. Sometimes the company secret service men perform the work and sometimes private agencies. In all cases it is done with the utmost care and with the most absolute secrecy. The reports are seen only by the heads of departments and are afterwards sent to private files. The result is always the same when suspicions are well-founded. "A sudden resignation occurs and a new man is appointed. The head of the department figures the extent of the discharged man's opportunities and the probable loss the company has avoided."

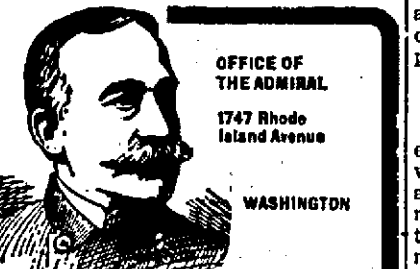

MISS GRACE WARD, CHAS. W. REEDER

Happy Wedding of Well-Known Young People of This City at Home of the Bride Yesterday.

The marriage of Miss Grace Ward and Charles W. Reeder, both well-known young people of this city, was quietly and prettily solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Rebecca Ward, 158 Glen street, last evening at eight o'clock. The witnesses of the nuptial contract were the relatives of the bride and groom, the wedding being an unostentatious one.

The parlors were handsomely decorated for the occasion with vines, potted plants and cut flowers. A bower of trailing vines and fragrant blossoms had been arranged in one of the parlors and here the happy young people took their station when they entered the parlors to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Maud Ward, sister of the bride. As Rev. Robt. C. Denison pastor of the Congregational church, began the solemn words of the marriage service, the music softened and the subdued strains mingled prettily with the marriage vows. During the ceremony Mendelssohn's wedding march was played.

The bride and groom were unattended.

ed and the bride was attired in a lace trimmed gown of white organdie. She is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Rebecca Ward, and is a graduate of the Janesville high school, having completed the course of study with the class of '96. Mr. Reeder also graduated with honors in the same class and the attachment which had its happy culmination last evening began in their school days. Mr. Reeder is an ambitious young attorney and was recently elected justice of the peace. His childhood home was in the town of La Prairie but he has resided in this city for several years.

The wedding feast, which followed the ceremony was a sumptuous affair and was prettily served in the dining room which was elaborately decorated with ferns, carnations and roses. Mr. and Mrs. Reeder will go to housekeeping at once at 158 Glen street. Miss Maud Ward, sister of the bride, and R. H. Gallagher, both of Milwaukee, were the only guests from out of the city.

FIRE DESTROYED LARGE FARM BARN

At an early hour this morning fire destroyed the large barn with its contents of hay, tobacco, and farm machinery and also the windmill on the farm belonging to W. H. Noyes. Mr. Noyes lives on the Beloit road, just south of Kellogg's nurseries, in the town of Rock. The loss is a serious one financially.

The fire was discovered about four o'clock by the Rev. Mr. Bolte, who is a tenant on Mrs. Noyes' farm, and he ran to Mr. Noyes' house and woke them up. The fire was beyond control then and it looked for a time as though the house and all of the buildings would also go. Fortunately the flames were kept confined to the barn and the windmill.

The financial loss will be a heavy one. The barn building alone cannot be rebuilt for $1,200 and there is the further loss of the hay, tobacco and tools. The loss is about half covered by insurance.

NEW PHYSICAL DIRECTOR.

The Y. M. C. A. Has Engaged Hallie Hotelling of Rockford.

After being without a physical director for the past nine months, the Y. M. C. A. has secured that most desirable article and tomorrow morning Hallie Hotelling, of Rockford, will enter upon his duties at the association building. The directors of the Y. M. C. A. have been looking for a physical director for several months but thought it was wise to make haste slowly, and they now think they have secured just the man they want and one who will stop permanently.

Mr. Hotelling arrived this morning and spent the day looking over the gymnasium and getting acquainted with some of the members of the association. He is a young man of about thirty years of age and was born in Rockford, which city has always been his home. He is a graduate of the physical department of the Chicago Training school for Physical Directors and General Secretaries, having taken the full course and graduating in '97. He was physical director of the Rockford Y. M. C. A. one year before he went to training school and returned to the same position after graduation. He has had six years' experience in conducting the gymnasium work and has splendid executive ability. He will conduct his work according to the graded system adopted in the training school, a system which has never been adopted before.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Another "Rip Van Winkle" has come to light and one that is a worthy successor to Mr. Joseph Jefferson. He comes to the Myers Grand tonight and he is known as Thomas Jefferson, the second son of America's dean of the profession, Joseph Jefferson. It is said to witness his performance of Rip, is a synonym of all that is good, noble and true to art. He has filled a place artistically that has been feared would be left vacant should anything occur to his illustrious father, to cause his withdrawal from the stage, such being the case the name of Jefferson and Rip will live on for years to come. His visit to our city should be an agreeable one as he will be ably supported in presenting this charming pastoral play by a company of unusual excellence.

Terms Are Pretty Steep

"Janesville has granted Phil Spooner a franchise for his electric railway," said Henry Sloan of Edgerton, at the Kirby yesterday to a Sentinel reporter, "and Edgerton and Stoughton will follow her example at the next meeting of their common councils. The terms are pretty steep for Mr. Spooner, however, as he will have to have his road built, equipped and in full operation between the cities named in twelve months, dating from Jan. 1, 1902."

Tripped Over a String
Chief Hogan received a hurry-up call last evening from North Bluff street. The call said that Mrs. George Barriage had fallen over a string stretched across the sidewalk and broken her leg. The chief went up at once and found that some boys whose names he could not learn had stretched a string across the sidewalk near Chief Spencer's residence and had one end tied to a tree and the other to the fence. The string was just high enough above the walk to trip anyone walking along and was invisible in the dark. Mrs. Barriage fell over the string and was badly bruised and hurt by the unexpected fall, but had no bones broken.

The club includes many of the prominent young married people of the city and they have jolly times at their socials. The fees are simply large enough to pay the expenses of the parties given. The work of organizing the club for the coming winter will be begun in a few days and Charles J. Myhr will have it in charge.

THE ACCIDENT TO PATRICK COLLINS

M. L. Dunn of Madison was in the city last night on business for the Remington company. He was standing on the platform at Edgerton yesterday when Patrick Collins, the section hand was killed by the passenger train and saw the whole thing. He said there was a freight engine standing on the siding near where the section men were working. The steam was blowing off on the freight engine and was making considerable noise and drowning the noise made by the approaching train.

The fireman on the freight engine saw the danger the men were in, and shouted to them to get off of the track. They seemed dazed by the noise and instead of looking the way he pointed, towards the approaching train, looked up at him. One of the men saw his danger and made a quick jump off the track and was not an instant too soon for the engine brushed against his clothes as it passed. Collins never realized his danger and was struck by the engine and hurled to one side of the track. A doctor in the crowd was called to examine him and said that he never knew what struck him as the back of his skull was crushed in and his brains oozed out through the hole. Collins was the father of James Collins, the famous sprinter, who had a world-wide reputation. He leaves besides a wife and two grown children.

Came Near Dying.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," said M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa, "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines, but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely. I went to sleep and did not awake for eight hours. On awakening a few hours ago I felt so gratified that the first work I do on going to the office is to write to the manufacturers of this remedy and offer them my grateful thanks and say, 'God bless you and the splendid medicine you make.' This remedy is for sale by King's pharmacy and People's Drug Co."

ENTERTAINED 60 OF THEIR FRIENDS

Delightful Party Given by Mrs. H. S. Gilkey and Mrs. E. J. Smith at Home of the Former.

The goddess of sociability and joy reigned supreme at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Gilkey, 168 Garfield avenue, last evening, when Mrs. Gilkey and Mrs. E. J. Smith joined hands in hospitality and entertained about sixty of their lady friends in right royal manner. The delightful form of entertainment chosen by the hostesses was a 5:30 o'clock tea and it was one of the most elegant affairs of the kind that the people of Janesville have ever enjoyed.

While the guests were assembling Master Webster Gilkey presided at the outer door making a very manly and courteous page. After wraps had been removed, the guests received a cordial welcome from the hostesses who stood in the parlor and were assisted in receiving by Miss Sprosser of Watertown, a cousin of Mrs. Gilkey. During the exchange of greetings and the supper hour which followed, an exquisite musical program was rendered by George Hatch, Harry Haggart and Lawrence Doty, who played together beautifully. The sweet strains of melody from harp and mandolin which floated through the parlors as the guests chatted over the coffee cups made a pleasing accompaniment for the general sociability and formed one of the many harmonious details which made the party such a brilliant success.

About six o'clock the guests were seated at small tables which were daintily spread. Deep pink carnations were laid at each over and the centerpieces on each table were embroidered in pink. The sideboard in the dining room also bore its beautiful burden of the graceful pink blossoms whose spicy fragrance filled the rooms. Carnations and other choice cut flowers also adorned the prettily furnished parlors.

The supper was exceptionally recherche and was prettily served in three courses. The menu was an elaborate one and the dainty edibles which composed it were all deliciously appetizing. The hostesses were assisted in serving their guests by Mesdames Stanley B. Smith, E. P. Doty, Charles Schaller and Howard D. Hoover. Mrs. Louise Bowerman was the efficient caterer.

After the feast of good things was over and all traces of its service had been removed, cards were produced and the balance of the evening was devoted to the pleasant pastime of six-handed euchre. The players all had a merry time and the prizes were won by Mrs. J. H. G. Carter and Mrs. H. D. Hoover. Mrs. Carter was made happy by receiving a handsome silver fork of a unique pattern for being the most proficient player, and Mrs. Hoover was fortunate in having her card drawn by chance from the entire number, thus designating her as the winner of the lucky number prize, a beautiful plate.

During the afternoon Mrs. Gilkey and Mrs. Smith were untiring in their efforts to care for the perfect comfort of their guests and nothing was left undone which their gracious hospitality would suggest. Good-nights were said at a seasonable hour with feelings of sincere gratitude for a delightful evening and the pleasant memories which will linger long with those who enjoyed its pleasures. Mrs. Gilkey and Mrs. Smith will entertain another company of ladies in a very similar manner Saturday evening.

Discovered Another Hole

The street cleaner discovered another hole this morning in Milwaukee street bridge. The hole was near the east end of the bridge and directly in the center of the car track. A board was stuck up in the place until the street commissioner could put in a patch. There are so many patches in sight now that the surface of the structure looks like a crazy quilt and it will soon be necessary to put a patch on a patch to make it safe for vehicles to cross. The highway committee have not yet decided on their report but will by the time the council meets again. There should be no delay on their part in remodeling a new structure.

Nothing Tastes Good

And eating is simply perfunctory—done because it must be.

This is the common complaint of the dyspeptic.

If eating sparingly would cure dyspepsia, few would suffer from it long. The only way to cure dyspepsia, which is difficult digestion, is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured the niece of Frank Fay, 106 N. St., South Boston, Mass., who writes that she had been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for six years; had been without appetite and had been troubled with sour stomach and headache. She had tried many other medicines in vain. Two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla made her well.

WHICH?

Annee sent for me, and I responded at once.

"What's the matter?"

"Well," she said, with a rush, "I have had four proposals this week."

"That seems a good record. I don't see anything to complain of. I suppose you want my advice as to which to accept?"

"First, there's Jack Forde. We were brought up together, you know." A telltale flush spread over her face.

"She cares for him really," I decided.

"Well, when one's with Jack one does like him dearly. He is so young and high spirited and devoted, I think."

"Next, please."

"Then there's Walter Fielding."

"Don't know him."

"No."

"She gave a little sigh. My surprise about Jack must have been wrong. 'Well, he paints the most lovely pictures in the world, and I am so happy when I am in his studio. I think I should love to marry a painter. Painters are not conventional, you know, and he thinks I have got pretty feet. It's only the shoe, really. But I do care for him. He's—'

"Proceed, Miss Annee," I urged.

"Ah, that's nice of you! Well, Julian Clifford."

"He's fifty!"

"I know, but he loves me so! He loves me more than all the others put together. And he seems to consider it such an honor that I should care for him, and I can't tell you how wonderful that is to a woman. He has such beautiful gray eyes, too, and he never takes one for granted. I think I love him rather desperately."

"Go on."

A dreamy look crept into her eyes. She hesitated, then gave a little, short, quick laugh.

"This is the one, after all," thought I.

"It's Reginald Mason."

"That prig!"

"Oh, how you're down upon him because he's much cleverer than most of you! There's something in him that fascinates me oddly. He's different from any one else in the world and so witty. Then at the most unexpected moments one catches a note of pathos in his tone, something of a latent sadness which makes one feel one would do anything in the world just to make him happier."

"I congratulate you, Miss Annee," I said, rising. "Only, which is it to be, because I haven't in the least guessed, as you say they are all so charming?"

"That's the difficulty. I like them all in so totally different a way. You see, there are three kinds of men with regard to matrimony—the man one knows at once one would marry and love forever, the man one thinks one might love and the man one simply couldn't anyhow. Now, unfortunately, my four fiancés all come under the second heading."

"Has no one ever come under the first?"

"She looked at me for several moments, considering. Then she laughed.

"Why, yes, only they never liked me."

"That's a great difficulty, of course, though I should have thought—'Here some afternoon callers suited into the room, and for some moments we were separated. She came back to me, however, on the appearance of her sister and murmured:

"Do, do suggest something!"

"Give me a week," I said.

"So long?"

"A week!" I repeated, and we said goodby. I met Julian Clifford on the stairs. He was certainly very good looking.

The week duly elapsed, and I heard again from Annee. "Things much worse," she wrote: "four letters every morning of entreaties for a definite answer; four bouquets every evening. I can't bear it any longer. Tell me, for pity's sake, what to do. They are all awfully kind."

"Dear Miss Annee," I answered, "I am extremely busy, but meet me tomorrow at the corner of M— street at 12 o'clock. I have thought of a good plan, only you must have courage; otherwise I cannot help you."

She was there ten minutes late.

"How absurd of you to make me come here!" she said. "And how pale you look, and so smart!"

"Miss Annee," said I—my voice was slightly trembling—"you see that house?"

"Yes," said she, "but what?"

"That's a justice of the peace's office."

"Oh, dear! Is any of them about?"

"Cause I really can't. It's awfully good of you, but I really can't—not even Walter Fielding. And I do care!"

"None of them is about," I said.

"Well?"

I paused a moment. She looked up, a little frightened. "Will you marry me?"

"Dison!"

"Will you marry me now?"

"But, Dison—"

"We crossed the road."

"Now!"

"I think you are very unkind. I like a proper wedding with bridesmaids."

"You shall have that after." We were at the door. She turned suddenly white and walked in, with her little head very erect. When we came out—I don't think I have ever seen anything quite so lovely as she looked—she said:

"Dison, you came under the first heading. I put her in a cab, and she drove home alone. Three weeks later we were married at St. George's. They were all there."

Heavy Run on Illinois Bank.

Belleville, Ill., Oct. 10.—A heavy run is being made on the Belleville First National Bank. It was started late Tuesday afternoon and was renewed with vigor this morning. Some indiscreet person made some statement which caused a number of depositors to line up and ask for their money. The crowd at the bank caused many others, who had not heard of the rumor, to hasten to the bank also and draw out their money. Cashier Casimir Andele paid off all who called. The bank is one of the richest institutions in the southern part of the state. According to the statement of its officers it has a capital of $100,000 and a surplus of $300,000.

Heavy Drain of English Blood.

The total official loss for July was 1,790 killed, wounded, diseased, prisoners, invalids, an increase on the preceding month.

Navy Requires Marconi System.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The Bureau of Equipment, of which Rear Admiral Bradford is chief, has decided that the navy must be equipped with wireless telegraphy, and if an invention of its own cannot be devised that Marconi's system should be purchased. Admiral Bradford will recommend this in his annual report. Germany has been trying to perfect its own system, Russia has been active in its experiments, Spain is now talking with her African possession by wireless telegraphy and Sweden is using the system all along her coast.

Cash Ready to Seize Herat.

London, Oct. 10.—It is regarded here as certain that there will be an outbreak of civil war in Afghanistan, says a dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Daily Mail, "arising from the claims of the fourth son of the late Ameer, Mohammed Umar Khan, who is favored by Russia. Telegrams were sent to Kush today ordering large reinforcements of Russian troops along the frontier to be in readiness, if necessary, to seize Herat."

Sell a Big Timber Tract.

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 10.—The Edward Hines Lumber company of Chicago has sold to the Edgar & Alexander Lumber company of Iron River 900 acres of timber land in Douglas county for $130,000. The deal excites special interest because the sellers are extensive manufacturers and have been buyers of timber. Others are selling stumpage, saying that it is more profitable than manufacturing at present prices for standing pine.

A.... Reputation

How it was made and retained in Janesville.

A good reputation is not easily earned and it was only by hard, consistent work among our citizens that Doan's Kidney Pills won their way to the proud distinction attained in this locality. The public endorsement of scores of Janesville residents has rendered invaluable service to the community. Read what this citizen says:—

Mr. Samuel Griffin, of 203 Locust St. journeyman carpenter, says: "I had a severe attack of kidney trouble and as a result weakness of the kidneys set in. The secretion from those organs were greatly disordered, annoyed me much at night and I seemed to have limited control of them. After finishing the treatment my kidneys were strengthened that I could sleep all night without being disturbed. I am better now than I have been for years, and give all credit to Doan's Kidney Pills for bringing about this result."

Dyspepsia Cure

Dyspeptics cannot regain health and strength by living upon half rations. They must eat plenty of good food and digest it. To enable them to do this they should use something that will help the stomach do its work. KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE is such a preparation. It digests what you eat and supplies the substances needed to build up the worn out digestive organs.

Prof. J. Ivison, of Lonaconing, Md., says: "For thirteen years I suffered agony from dyspepsia and neuralgia of the stomach. I tried almost everything and doctors drugged me nearly to death with morphine, but temporary relief was all I could obtain till I was advised to use KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE. The first dose gave me relief. I bought my first bottle in March, 1900, and I have not had a single pain since. It has completely cured me. I cannot endorse it too highly."

THE CHURCH OF GOD.

There is located in Racine a religious sect known as "The Church of God." Among the disciples of this peculiar faith is a firm of house movers and contractors by the name of Lucasohn & Brauer. Mr. Lucasohn, of the firm, recently met with a serious accident in which one of his legs was badly mangled. He refused medical attendance, claiming that his church believed that prayer was an effective remedy for all ills. His partner shared in the belief, and a praying band filled the room, while the man suffered intense agony. The chances are that blood poisoning and death will relieve him, and add to the list of "other victims" of this class of suicides. The humane society was appealed to but was unable to act and the city authorities were powerless.

This sort of fanaticism borders so close to insanity that it is a menace to society and the country's well-being. Some speaker said at the Twilight club the other night, that every man was more or less tainted with insanity, and that the spirit of anarchy and rebellion was so widespread that he sometimes felt that the world was degenerating.

This doctrine may be a little pessimistic, and yet it is worthy of serious thought. When a man like Dowle, professing to be Elijah, divinely inspired, can influence an army of intelligent people, not only to follow him, but to believe in his erratic teachings; it is time for the religious world at least, to think seriously of results. The Church of God in Racine is of the same species, fanatical and dangerous.

The country is filled with a spirit of unrest. It breaks out in political life, assuming the high sounding title of reform, and all sorts of isms result. Greenbackism, Coxeyism, socialism, populism, and various other fanaticalisms, until the life and destiny of conservative and well established parties are threatened.

In the religious world, the same spirit of unrest is a menace to the life of the church. Emotion occupies the throne of judgment, and new creeds are constantly coming to the surface.

The assassin is dangerous. So is the rattlesnake, but there will never be an epidemic of either, but in the realm of political and religious thought and action, the contagion is on, and unless it is met by the combined forces of conservatism and common sense, the disease will spread until it envelops the nation. The individual anarchist deserves well merited punishment, but the collective fanatic, whether political or religious, presents a problem of greater import, with which public sentiment alone is competent to deal, and this sentiment until thoroughly aroused will be dormant. There is something sacred about the title, "The Church of God," but however sincere may be the deluded followers, back of the sacredness is sacrilege of pronounced type. The faith of the fathers should be more strictly observed.

FINANCIAL STABILITY.

It is a fact worthy of note that during the experiences of the past month, when public thought has been so lintense, and public interests have been so disturbed, that public confidence has not been shattered, and the great commercial and industrial machinery of the world paralyzed.

Aside from the murder of the president, and the sudden change made necessary in the office of the chief executive, other causes have contributed to the unsettling of values. The stock market has been weak and showing a downward tendency. Leading railroad stocks have declined from four to twenty-eight points, while industrial stocks, especially of the speculative class, have gone all to pieces. In spite of these disturbing elements, no panic has resulted, and but few serious failures have occurred.

These conditions speak volumes for the stability of the nation, and are an object lesson worthy of recognition. At no time in the history of the century has public confidence been so liberally bestowed, as at the present time. The people at large, while crushed with indignation and sorrow, had implicit confidence in President Roosevelt, and when his word flashed over the land that he would carry out the policy of the lamented president, it required no endorsement. The people believed in the new president and unrest vanished like the morning dew.

The little flurry on Wall street was speedily checked by the secretary of the treasury, aided by the Bankers' association, and people not directly interested, never knew of the disturbance. Men who lost heavily in stocks were not the class of men who whine or advertise misfortune and the business of the country was saved from apprehension.

The vitality of the nation was never more thoroughly tested. It has been equal to the strain, and if wisely directed, will continue to prosper. It possesses financial ability backed by public confidence, which is recognized as the strongest kind of endorsement.

MR. BABCOCK.

Congressman Babcock of Wisconsin is out in the open, and has recently defined his position. He says that he is a protectionist, and originally favored the Dingley tariff bill, that he believes in protecting American labor and industries, outside of the steel industry, but with the combination that now controls that line of work he is not in sympathy. In other words, the Badger congressman has an ax to grind with the steel trust, and it looks on the surface as though he was posing for popularity on a self-constructed issue.

Mr. Babcock has always been recognized as a shrewd politician. It is not at all probable that he has started out on this new venture without feeling reasonably certain of success. His field of operation has been largely confined to his own state, where he is recognized as an able leader. He has never posed as a philanthropist and perhaps would not court the title.

In entering the broader field of national politics and advancing measures that are more or less startling, motives will be questioned, and while it is popular to denounce trusts and corporations, it is generally conceded that much of this class of criticism is unjust, and largely due to ignorance. Mr. Babcock is not an ignorant critic, and he enjoys the reputation of being fair-minded, ambitious politician.

Just why he has selected the steel combine is not quite clear, and his published statement is not the most lucid. These steel combine represents the largest block of capital of any industry. It was organized to make money, the same as any other business enterprise. By a union of capital and effort it has succeeded, and while showing a small margin of profit, it has been able to meet all competition and the markets of the world have been interested, and American supremacy recognized. It is the only large industry that has published to the world a financial statement of its work and condition. The margin of profit is not extravagant, and it is not worth considering when compared with the value that has crowned combined American effort.

Mr. Babcock's attitude on this industry does not partake of the spirit of reciprocity, and is not in harmony with the policy of the administration. The general welfare of the country is a larger question than a single industry, and congress will be slow to enact any legislation that does not cover the broader field.

John C. Spooner and Henry C. Payne of Wisconsin are close enough to the new president, to be called in counsel. The ability of these two men is recognized, and the state has occasion to be proud of her representatives. Mr. Spooner will remain in the senate, while Mr. Payne is not seeking political preferment, and will be content to remain in the ranks.

General Alger's book, "The Spanish-American War," is being severely criticized, for the spirit of partisanship that seems to have inspired it. The historians are lost in an effort to censure military and naval commanders, with whom the general was not in sympathy. The public is not interested in this class of petty jealousies, and the book lacks the elements of popularity.

Canned beef and army rations, as well as General Miles and Admiral Sampson, are fully ventilated in General Alger's new book, now ready for distribution. The beef is a little stale, and the other topics need warming over.

The Shamrock will go into winter quarters with the Columbia and Constitution, at New London. A series of friendly races may be arranged for another year, but she will not be permitted to compete for the cup until 1903.

PRESS COMMENT.

Madison Journal: It will be observed that while the Eleventh Story numbers Whitehead, Ray and some other all-world people, these gentlemen are not prancing round on white chargers on the firing line. The participation of these gentlemen comes under the head of the dictum that one can get signatures to hang the most popular man in town.

Prancing is not necessary; all things come to them that wait. There is no election this year and people are devoting time to business, and enjoying general prosperity, not forgetting to think occasionally on their own account. Wait brothers, till the "tide rolls by," but don't fail to look out for a landing place.

Milwaukee Sentinel: It is only charitable to believe that General

Alger has written from the fullness of a heart in which disappointment has rankled until his sense or justice is blurred, and that he has taken little thought of the effect of his ill-timed words. In venting what is simply the final discontent of years of rancor, the distinguished author has shown such a spirit of injustice and such an indifference to army etiquette that all who read the pages he has written must feel a sincere regret for their publication.

Eau Claire Leader: The students of Wesleyan University, the strongest Methodist college in the country, have petitioned Governor Odell of New York, to the effect that the bones of the assassin, Czolgosz, should never be allowed to mingle with American soil, but that the remains should be taken out to sea 100 miles and sunk in the Atlantic. There is something reasonable in this and it quite likely that the suggestion may be acted upon. The crime of Czolgosz was the most atrocious of which there is any record in history, ancient or modern.

Oshkosh Northwestern: A Richmond Center man who has escaped to Omaha says he has discovered the vital principle of power of tornadoes, and if he can get some moneyed promoter to stake him for a few hundred dollars he will disclose this secret and build a motor which will revolutionize things. We hope some one will hasten to encourage this ingenious young man in a substantial way. Ever since poor Mr. Keeley died there has been a dearth of news of this particular brand.

Oshkosh Northwestern: A Richmond Center man who has escaped to Omaha says he has discovered the vital principle of power of tornadoes, and if he can get some moneyed promoter to stake him for a few hundred dollars he will disclose this great secret and build a motor which will revolutionize things. We hope some one will hasten to encourage this ingenious young man in a substantial way. Ever since poor Mr. Keeley died there has been a dearth of news of this particular brand.

Green Bay Gazette: Close follow-up at the White House, Mr. Henry C. Payne invited for a conference with President Roosevelt. Perhaps our new chief executive has not been reading the "half-breed" press of Wisconsin. He should be sent a bundle of marked copies and informed that the above named gentlemen are personally objectionable to the republican administration, machine of Wisconsin. The president must beware or he will be labeled a "stalwart" and treated accordingly.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: The best evidence yet given by President Roosevelt that he intends to carry out the policies of his illustrious predecessor was his summoning of the Hon. John C. Spooner in counsel Saturday. Wisconsin needs no greater assurance than this; and the cockles of her heart are already warmed for the new occupant of the White House.

Portage Register: Senator Spooner had no more than arrived at Washington before he was called in consultation with President Roosevelt on the Philippine situation. This is the sort of a man Wisconsin wants to be represented by one who is capable of helping shape the destiny of the nation.

Milwaukee News: The Schley inquiry has developed the fact that whatever did happen, was to the credit of the admiral, and what might have happened would have been to his discredit. That's what his admirers have claimed all along.

Evening Wisconsin: Prof. Triggs has succeeded in getting the English deprecators of American literature to agree with him in his depreciation of American literature. But they had reached their conclusion before he began.

Superior Telegram: Hon. Billy Mason ought to be able to reduce his weight by circulating industriously among his constituents.

FUNERAL SERVICE OVER LEON AYERS

Sad and Impressive Burial of the Janesville Youth Who Took His Own Life.

Especially sad were the funeral services which were held this afternoon for Leon Ayers, whose recent tragic death ended a life of the brightest promise. A brief service was held at the home of the bereaved parents, Mr. and Mrs. Danford Ayers, after which the regular service was held at the chapel at Oak Hill cemetery.

The attendance at the funeral was a large one. Supt. H. C. Buell and as many of the high school teachers as could be excused from duty together with the members of the senior class took the two o'clock car from town and were present at the chapel services to represent the school of which the deceased young man was such an honored member. Many of the Juniors with whom he had been associated as a classmate for two years, were also present and on more eloquent tribute to the high character of the young man could be needed than the sorrowful testimony of these young people who knew him so intimately and mourn his death so sincerely.

The love of his schoolmates was also evidenced in the floral offerings which were numerous and beautiful. Among them were a broken wheel of white roses with '02 in immortelles, the tribute of the senior class, an exquisite spray of two and one half dozen of pink roses and five dozen white carnations tied with purple and white ribbon, the colors of the Junior class who sent them, and two and one half dozen cream roses, the messengers of sympathy from the Sophomores to Ray Ayers, the bereaved young brother, who is a member of that class.

The sad services were conducted by the Rev. Robert C. Denison, pastor of the Congregational church. The central thought of his comforting words was the verse of Scripture, "For He Knoweth Our Frame; He Remembereth That We Are Dust." Rev. Denison said in part that God understands the delicacy of the tools with which life is made up. The brain is a tool and when it breaks in man's hands, whether because of an ambition greater than physical strength or for some other reason, God understands the cause.

The song service was beautifully rendered by F. F. Richards, E. E. VanPool, H. E. Cary and Arohis Crawford, the male quartet of the First M. E. church. After the services the remains were taken to the grave which had been robbed of its loveliness by the lining of foliage which was the loving work of a committee from the senior class. The casket containing its precious form was borne to its last resting place by Edwin Saunders, Ross Bump, Rollin Lewis, William Fox, Matthew Roharty, and Merrill Crispe, and all that was mortal of Leon Ayers was lowered tenderly to its place in the silent city of the dead.

Best Concert Company

The C. W. Best Concert company which opens the High school lecture course at the auditorium tomorrow evening, has appeared in several of the cities in this vicinity, and many of them has played a return engagement within a short time. The company of talented little people gave a concert at Beloit recently and Manager Warner of the Star Grand concert company which opened the Peoples' Lecture course here, heard the concert and endorsed it very highly. He regarded it as a very fine entertainment and said no concert had ever given better satisfaction in Beloit. The people were delighted with it. The company is to appear on the lecture course at Whitewater and in several other cities and has been most heartily received wherever it has appeared.

At tomorrow's evening's dance either a Mexican or gypsy dance will be given in costume. Present indications are that the company will be greeted by a crowded house as a large number of tickets for the course have been sold.

CORNER STONE OF NEW CITY HALL

CEREMONY OF PLACING IT OCCURS SATURDAY, OCT. 19.

Arrangements To Have the Exercises Under the Supervision of the Masonic Orders.—Half-Holiday Will Be Asked For—Inscription on the Corner Stone.

It is the intention of those in charge to have the laying of the corner stone of the new city hall take place on Saturday afternoon, October 19th. Arrangements are now being made to have the exercises under the supervision of the Masonic orders. The ceremonies will be conducted by the members of the grand lodge of the state, headed by the grand master mason or his representative, and will be very imposing.

It is expected that the masonic societies and other organizations will turn out and take part in the exercises which will be the most interesting ever held in the city.

The stone will be laid at the northwest corner of the building with a face on Jackson street and one on Wall street. Its position in the building will be between the basement water table and the first story sill course. It will be four feet long, two feet wide and two feet thick and will weigh in the neighborhood of a ton. The cap for the main stone will be four feet long, one foot thick and two feet wide.

The date of 1901 will be placed on the cap stone and on the Jackson street face of the corner stone will be inscribed the names of the mayor and present council in the following order:

Mayor—VICTOR P. RICHARDSON
Aldermen—
F. E. FIFIELD, W. S. RICH,
C. L. ALLEN, J. F. HARMON, W. H. JUDH,
H. S. GILBERT, F. R. HODMAN,
E. F. HARMON, W. A. MURRAY,
J. B. McLEAN.

By this arrangement the names of the building committee appear in the first column in the order of their respective wards, and in the second column the balance of the aldermen in order.

On the Wall street side will be inscribed:

"E. A. Rush & Company, Architects, James Rawson & Son, Contractors."

The box to be placed in the excavation to the corner stone will contain copies of the daily papers published in the city, public records, a copy of the proceedings of the council ordering the construction of the building and other things that will be of interest at some future period.

It is the idea to have Saturday afternoon made a half holiday by the manufacturing and wholesale firms of the city and to ask the retail stores to close for an hour or so during the ceremonies. Saturday was selected as the time for the ceremony for the reason that the contractors could not get the stone ready before that time.

DEATH OVERTOOK JULIETTE HANCHETT

Died This Afternoon, Aged Seventy-eight Years, at the Home of Her Daughter, Mrs. Jackman.

This afternoon, a half after one o'clock, Mrs. Juliette Hanchett laid down life's burden, and joys and sorrows entered into the eternal rest. Her death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Jackman, 57 Park Place, and was the result of a brief attack of neuralgia of the heart. Mrs. Hanchett had been ailing for about six weeks.

Deceased was seventy-eight years of age. Her maiden name was Juliet Titus and she was born in Marshall, Oneida county, N. Y., Oct. 29, 1823, being descended from an old Connecticut family of English origin. She was united in marriage with the late John M. Hanchett, at Oneida, Oct. 9, 1843, and came west with her husband in 1854. They came directly to this city where they made their home for fifteen years. In 1869 they moved to Chicago. Death came to Mr. Hanchett in this city in 1893 the year after the death of the late G. M. Hanchett, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Hanchett, he having passed away in July, 1892. Since the death of her husband Mrs. Hanchett has divided her time between Chicago and this city, making her home with her daughter while here.

Mrs. Hanchett was a member of St. Paul's Universalist church of Chicago and was a woman whose Christianity was broad and practical. She had many friends in this city where she was widely known, and her death will be the cause of much sincere sorrow.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. C. S. Jackman; one sister, Mrs. Phoebe McAdams, and four grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Jackman and Mrs. D. K. Jeffris, of this city and Fred Hanchett of La Crosse.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

Cards have been received in the city announcing the marriage of Miss Della Karstetter and William Frederick Schenck, both of Brodhead. The happy event occurred last Thursday, October 4. Mr. Schenck is one of Brodhead's popular young business men and is connected with the Brodhead Independent. He and his bride will be at home after November first.

SCHLEY EXCITED IN FIGHT

A Witness Says Commodore Seemed Eager to Quit.

OTHERS' TALES ARE DENIED.

Officer of the Massachusetts Says the Bearing of Schley During the Bombardment of the Colon Was That of an Exalted Man.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—"Admiral Schley's bearing during the bombardment of the Colon was that of a man suffering under extreme excitement; one who had a disagreeable duty to perform, did it reluctantly, and got through with it as soon as he could," said Lieutenant Commander Templin M. Potts, navigating officer of the Massachusetts, who was the principal witness before the court of inquiry for the day.

"We are conspicuous objects here in white, and I think we should get out of this," Admiral Schley said during the bombardment, according to the testimony of this witness.

These were fair samples of the testimony given by Lieutenant Commander Potts, and while it created something of a sensation much of its strength is taken away when contrasted with the statements of Captain Higginson, who was present at the time, and who said Schley's conduct on this occasion was in keeping with that of a commanding officer under such circumstances. Potts' statements are weakened also by the fact that Schley did not enter the conning tower on the day in question, although he was standing at the door of that apartment when the remarks quoted are alleged to have been made.

Potts Himself Badly Scared.

Lieutenant Commander Potts admitted that he himself was badly scared upon the occasion of the bombardment, although he testified that the shore batteries were so weak as not to be worth considering. The principal portion of his testimony was brought out by questions from the judge advocate, with a view of showing that the purpose of the action of May 31 was to destroy the Colon and not fire on the shore batteries, as has been testified to by previous witnesses. Then Potts endeavored to convict Schley of cowardice, using the language to which reference has been made. When asked on cross-examination upon what he based his impression that Schley was suffering under extreme excitement, Potts said it was because when the commodore first came upon the Massachusetts, the temporary flagship, he said he was going in to destroy the Colon, but upon leaving the vessel Schley called the action a reconnaissance, and said he was entirely satisfied with it, as he had succeeded in drawing the fire of the shore batteries.

Bristol Stands by His Evidence.

Lieutenant M. L. Bristol, the watch officer of the Texas, who was so positive on direct examination over events that occurred over three years ago, was given an uncomfortable half hour while under cross-examination. He stuck closely to his story and was extremely clever in fencing with Mr. Rayner. In the face of the direct evidence of his superiors he declined to admit that it was possible for him to be mistaken.

Disputes the Official Charts.

Mr. Rayner interrogated Lieutenant Bristol concerning his estimate, made soon after the arrival of the fleet off Santiago, that the Spanish shore batteries amounted to little. He had said before that the elevation of these batteries was from 150 to 200 feet. Mr. Rayner produced a chart to show that the Morro battery was 220 feet above the water line and the Zocapa battery 230 feet.

"Now, then," asked Mr. Rayner, "are you as positive about the distance you gave these as in other cases in which you have given distances?" Captain Lemly objected to the form of the question, saying that counsel was putting language he had not used into the mouth of the witness. Mr. Rayner then made objection to the interruption, and after stating this objection said to the witness: "If you are not positive I shall submit to any correction."

Judge Advocate—The witness has not stated that he was positive.

Admiral Dewey—I would rather you would not interrupt the testimony.

Judge Advocate—If the court tells me I cannot do it I will submit to the order of the court.

Admiral Dewey—If counsel for the applicant has put words into the mouth of the witness which he did not utter, you (addressing Captain Lemly) can bring it out at the proper time. You will have an opportunity to do that.

Judge Advocate—That is not the advantageous time to do it. The advantageous time is when it is done.

Notwithstanding the fact that the day marked an important turning point in the career of Rear Admiral Schley, being nothing less than the date of his transfer from the active to the retired list of the navy, he was in his accustomed seat within the railing of the Schley court of inquiry and gave his usual attention to the proceedings of the court. The retirement of Admiral Schley is in accordance with law, he having reached the age of 62 years. It was generally remarked that he did not look like age.

MATHEMATICAL WILL FILED.

Milwaukee Man's Heirs Will Be Puz-zled to Divide Estate.

Milwaukee, Oct. 10.—Heirs of Peter J. Gergen, whose will was filed for probate here, probably will be forced to resort to higher mathematics to ascertain the amounts to which they are respectively entitled.

In its directions regarding the distribution of the estate, which is valued at $3,500, the will is a curiosity. The property is to be divided among the widow and eight children, and the allotment to the children is made in the following language:

"Mary to receive for her share $200 more than the other children, Nicholas to receive $50 less than the other children, John to receive $70 less than the other children, Anna to receive $30 less than the other children, Joseph, Peter, Gabriel and Frank to receive an equal share, which shall be $200 less than Mary, $50 more than Nicholas, $70 more than John and $30 more than Anna." Peter Gergen, one of the sons, was named as executor in the will.

New Style of Locomotive.

San Francisco, Oct. 10.—A railroad engine is now nearing completion in the North Pacific Coast Railroad Company's machine shops at Sausalito, which, if it half accomplishes the sanguine hopes and predictions of its inventor, will result in a radical revolution in the construction of locomotives.

This new mechanical prodigy differs from other engines in that it has the engineers' and firemen's cabs out in front instead of the rear of the boiler, thus affording the men in the cab an unobstructed view of the track ahead.

For Equality of the Sexes.

Brussels, Oct. 10.—At a meeting of socialists attended by delegations from all over Belgium a resolution was passed in favor of political equality of the sexes, but postponing the demand for universal suffrage for women until it is secured for men.

The labor party, however, adheres to its programme, which includes suffrage for both sexes for the communal and provincial elections.

Fire Imperils Colored Orphans.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 10.—Fire almost destroyed the Delaware Orphan Home and Industrial School for Colored Children at 1120 Walnut street, this city. The firemen and police rescued all the attendants, and children, although some of the latter narrowly escaped suffocation. The loss to the building is about $2,500, covered by insurance. The fire, it is suspected, was of incendiary origin.

Mother's Love

Is boundless. Yet it is utterly helpless to give strength to the child born with a low vitality. The time to give strength to the child is before birth and to impart this gift the mother herself must be strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives strength to mothers. It preserves them in robust health in the months before baby comes. It practically does away with the pains of motherhood, and enables the mother to endow her child with a healthy body and a happy disposition. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol and is absolutely free from opium and cocaine.

"I consider Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the best medicine made," writes Mrs. Mary Murdoch, of 220 Taylor St., Topeka, Kansas. "I know it has no equal. I am the mother of ten children and only one living—the tenth one. She is one year old and is as well and hearty as can be. She is a beauty of my other babies, some were born right time, but dead, others were premature births and lived to be one year old but she was always feeble. I tried different doctors but none of them could tell what my trouble was. I was examined by surgeons but they found nothing wrong. I did not know what to do, so I thought this last time I would try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took it the entire nine months and now have a fine baby girl, and I can not praise your medicine enough for the good it did me."

WOMAN FLEES FROM HOSPITAL.

Health Not Returning Causes Mrs. Joseph Salama to Give Hospital Authorities a Scare.

Chicago, Ill., (Special Telegram). Yesterday morning the Mercy Hospital attendants were mystified at the disappearance of Mrs. Joseph Salama.

It was believed for a time that she had committed suicide, but after a diligent search aided by the police, she was discovered in the home of a nearby friend.

When interviewed she said, "I had heard of several persons that had been restored to health by using Dr. Arnold's Nerve Family Tea and decided to try it myself. A friend advised me to come to her home and I did so, thinking that she would notify the hospital clerk. Since leaving the hospital I have taken two cups of this tea and feel much better even now. In two or three days I shall be around again, I am sure."

People want Dr. Arnold's Nerve Family Tea and will have it under all circumstances, because it does give immediate relief and a permanent cure for all stomach disorders, liver troubles and kidney ailments. Ask your druggist. After you test it, you'll never be without it.

NO ARGUMENT NEEDED.

Every Sufferer From Catarrh Knows that Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Powders, Lotions, Sprays and Inhalers cannot really cure catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything, at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of the mucous, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or even serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and infection from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Gualacol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate of any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Richester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers and powders for months at a time with only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure.

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyances of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure.

FOUND GUILTY OF ASSAULT

Wm. Connolly and Herman Friday Were Fined $25 Each.

The case of the state of Wisconsin against William Connolly and Herman Friday, who were charged with malicious injury to a building and assault and battery, has been on trial in the municipal court since yesterday morning. The defendants reside in Footville and were charged by Mrs. Johnson, the complaining witness of coming to her house at a late hour at night and on being refused admittance broke in the door and drove her and her daughter out of the house with a chair. Dist. Atty. W. A. Jackson appeared for the state and J. J. Cunningham for the defendants. The defendants entered a plea of not guilty and demanded a jury trial which was given them. The case dragged along until almost noon today, when the jury retired after receiving the judge's orders. They came in about one o'clock and rendered a verdict, finding the defendants guilty of assault on the second count. Judge Fifield sentenced them to pay a fine of $25 each, in addition to one half the costs making a total of $52.40 against each prisoner and in default of payment they were to serve thirty days at hard labor in the county jail. Both of the prisoners are making efforts to raise the money.

Not Entirely Happy.

"You remember Thrallkill, who used to have such hard work making both ends meet?"

"Yes, I heard he inherited a fortune. Poor fellow! He needed it badly enough. What use did he make of it?"

"You know, he had a mania for old and rare books—would rather handle them and gloat over them than do anything else in the world. Well, he bought out a secondhand book store."

"And I suppose he's happy now."

"Yes, except when somebody comes in to buy a book."—Chicago Tribune.

that's all. No energy, no vim, no vigor, no ambition. The head aches, thoughts are confused, memory fails.
